THE SAGE FROM BESHKAPA

Shoira Tulaganova

The end of 1941. The world was in turmoil. The pages of history tell us that when fathers watched the horrors of war with tears in their eyes, some mothers fainted while reading a letter from their children. A boy was born in the village of Yakkabog, Ohangaron District, Kandirsoy, at a time when Uzbek boys were dying and dying for the sake of not trampling the soil of the homeland. They named her Mamatali with good intentions. Mamatali Kurbanov grew up in the bosom of the mountains.

There is a saying among our people that great talents are born in the countryside and mature in the city. However, this quote does not apply to the hero of our article. Because Mamatali's father Kurbanov, the owner of a sharp mind, was born in a village and grew up in a village. Grandfather knows the life and work of his seven family members well. If you talk to the hero of our article, he will tell you about the recent and distant past of Ohangaron oasis for hours. In a word, Mamatali Gurbanov is a "living" history book.

However, his childhood was very difficult. Our hero says that when he was a child, his father and uncle's ownership and the fact that he was the leader of the caravan brought misfortunes to his relatives. Mamatali Kurbanov's father, Grandfather Ergash, is a caravan leader, has more than forty camels and property enough to supply a village with food for several years. Our hero's uncles, who contributed to the development of the trade network in our country by bringing clothes and expensive fabrics from China, India and many other countries through camel caravans, were arrested and "heard" between 1937 and 1941, and their wealth was looted by malicious people. . Mamatali Kurbanov said that after a difficult divorce, her father, Ergash Baba, lives in the most remote part of our district, the bordering region with the Republic of Tajikistan, near Kandirsoy. Currently, this area is called Yakkabog by local residents. Later, grandfather Ergash moved his family to the village of Beshkapa in our district. Dear journalist, you know this village well.

Who lived in the mysterious Beshkapa?

The hero of our article says that the village of Beshkapa was named after five kapas. After the war, there were no more than five-story houses in this village. Grandfather said that when his family moved to this area, people known as Mansurboy and Abdurahmonboy lived there. After learning that there are conditions for living, mountain people gradually started to come to this area to live. After that, this place became a big village. This village belongs to the "Susam"

MFY, and the "Issik Suv" shrine, which is "rumored" among many, is located in this area.

Why is the spring known as "Issiksuv" neglected?

A few years ago, I heard from representatives of the local population that there is a spring in the village of Beshkapa, which has become a shrine. The water of this spring boils hot from the ground in all four seasons. Local residents, including people from neighboring villages, emphasize the opinion that a person who drinks or bathes in this water will be cured of his ailments. We do not know how true or false these statements are. However, the existence of hot water seeping from underground is a real miracle of nature. Unfortunately, this miracle is neglected today. From the boiling water, shepherds water their cattle and small horned cattle, housewives of local residents do laundry. In a word, drinking this water as healing is against sanitary rules. However, this miracle of nature should not be wasted! Grandpa Mamatali, the hero of our article, emphasized the healing properties of this water body and noted that tourists from all over the Republic come here. Those who came to the shrine were happy to say that this area is called a jewel in the heart of the mountains. Why are natural wonders not appreciated? Maybe if a responsible person improves this place and turns it into a beautiful sight that makes the tourists' tongues flutter when they come, it would have made a significant contribution to domestic tourism. In any case, we hope that the surroundings of this spring will be appreciated as a prosperous destination!

Do maple leaves grow away from the roots?

Mamatali Kurbanov teaches literacy in the 29th school in Khojakishlog of the mountainous region. Our hero, who graduated from the 10th grade of high school, enters Almalyk Polytechnic University. Mamatali Kurbanov, who worked honestly all his life and worked as a driver in several organizations, married Turon Aya, who was born in the neighboring village of Karakalpak. During their marriage, they raised 12 children, educated them, and gave them a home. Our grandfather happily noted that today the father's children are working effectively for the development of the society and showering thanks in the name of the family. Unfortunately, the hero of our article told us with a deep sigh that a cruel death took Aya Turon away from this world a few years ago. Today, grandfather has more than 40 grandchildren and more than 30 great-grandchildren. The old man, surrounded by his grandchildren, explained that he could not remember the faces of some of his grandchildren, and that as a person grows older, like a maple tree, the leaves fall away from the roots. We also nodded our heads in envy at the meaningful life of the luminary.

The harmony of years or the series of eras...

Between 1937 and 1941, Mamatali Kurbanov's brothers, w Grandpa Ergash, who lived with anxiety in the turbulent times, had to endure the difficulties of life and renounced his children's lost rights for the sake of tomorrow. The shocks of life test his fierce endurance, Ergash Kurbanov, who lost one hand, is investigated for being the owner of his brothers until 1958. And finally, in 1958, after a large amount of wealth belonging to the owner's brother Nurmat, who was "eared", was found in the mountains (a saddle and harness made of gold, according to the father), the investigation was completed. Mamatali Kurbanov remembered the hardships experienced by family members who did not know what to do, and thanked for today's medicine-free days.ho were dear to her heart, were "heard" and all their property was confiscated. He happily noted that he sees the fulfillment of his childhood dreams in the form of his children and grandchildren. While telling us about the recent and distant past of Ohangaron oasis, Otakhan said that we live on a priceless land and that we should live on every square meter of our land. Yes, the father has a strong sense of patriotism. We witnessed how he constantly reminds his grandchildren of the importance of this feeling. Today, our hero welcomed 82 spring. We said goodbye to our father, wishing that he would talk to us even when he was ninety or a hundred years old, and share his views about the recent and distant past. By the way, old age is wisdom. May our Piru-wealths live forever for the happiness of our country!
