INTRODUCTION

The meaning of the word, the mechanism of changes that occur in it, is complex and it is surreal. Defining and generating the progress of the meaning of the word one of the means is metonymy. Metonymy in all words of independent meaning-horse,active participation in changes in meaning occurring in adjectives, numbers, diamonds and verbs will, therefore, it is important to fully reveal its linguistic character.

Metonymy (Greek metonymia-rename)-between things and phenomena based on the interaction in space and time, the name of one to the other is a migration. When two things always apply together in a marriage, among them are contact occurs. As a result, the name of one of them is said, the other is understood. I captured the Nawab by saying his works with the poet capture of his work, not Navoi, due to the presence of a connection between is understood. Metonymy is one of the branch phenomena with the development of word meaning.And the progress of meaning will have different manifestations. The word meaning has its own range of expression it has an extension or narrowing, as well as an abstract state or a clear expression may be. Of the verbal meaning progress is not observed only if the changes in the existing meaning are known. He is the new can also produce meanings. The verbal meaning is given by the positive or negative of the subject attachment of attitude is also a progress of meaning. Metonymy means that is a glimpse of their progress.

The phenomenon of metonymy is mainly common in the horse category. On top of that signs characteristic of metonymy are clearly visible in the displacement of meaning in horse species stands. Therefore, in many works, linguists use metonymy from the horse category those who tried to analyze within the framework of the obtained metonymies. His appearances included priority to metonymies that occur in more horse categories even when separated given. Therefore, in the first place, the analysis of horse metonymies is aimed at were eligible.

Metonymies in the horse order are found in significant numbers within the range of stallions.On top of that, it is observed that it occurs for various reasons. Metonymy the occurrence in NOUN nouns is unique within other derivational meaning-giving words manifests in the way. Because the occurrence of derivative meaning in noble horses it is not observed in manifestations other than metonymy.

CONCLUSION

In place of the conclusion, it can be said that the occurrence of metonymy in the horse genus widely distributed:it is both as a linguistic phenomenon and as a speech phenomenon observed.Denotate of generating and derived meanings in the occurrence of metonymy connection between the creator by name, possession of the relationship of place, time and unit of space,unit of night and time spent on IT, unit of space and product, wound the basis is such.The essence of metonymy is universal in nature, that is, all actualizers in its occurrence even if it is uniformly defined for languages the Uzbek language is characterized by having a national character.
