Annotation: This article talks about educating our youth in the spirit of military patriotism, increasing their love for the motherland, protecting them from ideological influence, making young people aware of the identity of courage, bravery, love of the motherland, and the negative effects of popular culture on young people.
Key words: Courage, military patriotism, Pedagogical process, Defense of the Motherland, popular culture.

It is our duty to educate our youth in the spirit of military patriotism and make them loyal to the motherland. We will consider general issues regarding the practical application of the priority forms of educating young people in the military-patriotic spirit. In the "Concept of educating young people in the spirit of military patriotism", the methods of educating young people in the spirit of military patriotism are: persuasion; training and independent work; observation; encouragement; shown as a role model and a personal role model. Accordingly, relevant guidelines have been established.

Paragraph 13 of the concept states about the priority forms of educating young people in the spirit of military patriotism: "Educating young people in the spirit of military patriotism takes various forms, including scientific-practical conferences, question-and-answer evenings, reading, organized in the form of games, meetings with famous people and other forms.

The normative foundations and material and technical base for educating our youth in the spirit of military patriotism, increasing the spirit of loyalty to the motherland are being created. To increase and activate the effectiveness of work on educating young people in the spirit of military and patriotism, to more actively involve citizens of the country, state and non-governmental non-profit organizations and other institutions of civil society in the educational work in this regard, and to instill in the minds of young people the feeling of patriotism, bravery, courage and love for the motherland. their absorption is becoming one of the urgent tasks. As a result, the pedagogical and psychological possibilities of educating young people in the spirit of military patriotism justify the need to improve the system of educating them in the spirit of military patriotism. It is based on philosophical, methodological, methodical, psychological and pedagogical approaches and the national experience of educating students of pre-conscript military education in the spirit of military patriotism, as well as the organization of educational activities of our republican and foreign scientists, as well as group and section commanders; the use of research methods that are compatible with the research tasks and complement each other, the analysis and description of the research are provided in terms of quantity and quality, the representativeness of the experimental work and the mathematical and statistical analysis of the obtained results. determined by processing. In addition, meetings with military servicemen and veterans with rich life experience, winners of various competitions and contests in the fields of science, culture and sports. It has become a tradition to hold such meetings in connection with relevant events, holidays, major dates, etc. It is necessary to carefully and comprehensively prepare for these meetings in advance, prepare the necessary comfortable conditions and participants of the event, define and fully implement the plan of the event, the procedures for welcoming, introducing, thanking and monitoring the invited guests. Holding the contest

"Exemplary military family" and the competitions "My father, mother and I are athletes" also serve these goals.

Patriotism is the greatest duty of a person as a citizen and a member of a certain society, and includes such qualities as loyalty to the family, trust in the future, respect for history, attention to the present day, taking into account the interests of people around, and the ability to distinguish right from wrong. Unless the sense of patriotism in any army and society is matured, even if the most modern weapons are given at its disposal, it will not be useful. That is why, in the defense of the Motherland, first of all, the human factor is in the leading position. In one of his speeches, the president of our republic, Sh. Mirziyoyev, emphasized that spiritual and educational education is a very important, delicate and crucial issue, and he emphasized the new way of bringing up the patriotic qualities of today's youth. system development tasks were put on the agenda. In this process, our head of state summarized the historical traditions and experiences of foreign countries and gave recommendations such as the creation of patriotic organizations of children and teenagers in our country on a modern scientific basis. It was emphasized that it is a big mistake to allow paperwork, superficiality and laziness in the participation of young people in activities related to military life and physical education, therefore, it is necessary to develop new pedagogical technologies for educating students in the spirit of military patriotism and patriotism education. development of a new methodology has become the main goal of today's scientific research. Also, in the field of education of the Republic of Uzbekistan, achieving full implementation of the tasks defined in the Law "On Education" and "National Program of Personnel Training" is an important factor in the formation of patriotic qualities and self-sacrifice in young people. ladi Military patriotism essentially elevates a person from everyday tribulations to greatness by making it necessary for a person to have the qualities of patience, endurance, determination, perseverance, courage and bravery. That is, through military patriotism, a person goes from selfishly loving the country to realizing his moral duty to the country, and grows up. The importance of patriotic education for students is determined by the need to strengthen our country's security, defense power, and ensure the safety of citizens. Therefore, educating students in the spirit of patriotism remains a noble and responsible task in front of educational work. One of the main tasks of our independent state today is to educate a perfect patriotic person who lives and burns for his country and people. In the pedagogical process, it is possible to teach students about patriotism, heroism in front of the country, to develop the qualities of bravery and courage by having a psychological effect, so that the feeling of patriotism and love for the country turns into a true faith and a true creed. For example, Sheikh Najmuddin Kubro himself became the leader, formed an army from the people, and inspired the citizens of Urganch to fight against the enemy. In the fierce battle, Sheikh raised the flag high and held it in his hand until his last breath. Enemies had to cut the sheikh's fingers one by one to take the flag.

The education of military patriotism consists in the formation of systematic, goal-oriented skills and qualifications for the formation of a high defense consciousness, ideological-political, spiritual-psychological and moral qualities necessary for the armed defense of the Motherland. . Pedagogical-psychological training is very important in the development of patriotism in students. It is necessary to pay attention to the fact that the education of military patriotism in society depends not only on pedagogical and psychological foundations, but also on social, economic, political and moral foundations. Undoubtedly, the activity of strengthening military-patriotic work among young people today is more appropriate to expand the local and territorial characteristics, as well as the forces and means used, more than before. At the new stage of development of Uzbekistan, in the spiritual sphere, like in all other spheres, new approaches and relations are being formed. After all, the work to be done in this area, the problems that need to be researched have been accumulating for many years. One of such urgent tasks is patriotic education. We expect the work to protect young people from various harmful religious movements, from the influence of destructive and foreign ideas coming under the guise of "mass culture", and to return citizens who have lost their way to a healthy lifestyle. does not give the result. That is why we should teach that patriotic education is important in the formation of youth spirituality, that its formation and improvement is a process that lasts from birth to the end of a person's life. Teaching young people to feel their duties and responsibilities before the Motherland and the nation is to determine the virtues of law-abiding.
