

WORDLY KNOWLEDGE

ONLINE KONFERENSIYA

Nematova Elnora Zoirjon qizi

Fergana District 44th general Secondary School of Fergana region

English teacher

THE ROLE OF A TEACHER IN EDUCATIONAL PROCESS

Abstract : This article discusses the main tasks of teaching which is the noblest profession, important role of teachers not only in education, but also in teaching process, their professional ethics, their role as creators of the learning and teaching environment, their attitude to learners, their commitment and accountabilities. It also provides information on what the teaching is, the objectives and aims of it, Oakeshott's description of the word and examples of this which he gave.

Keywords: teacher, teaching process, noblest profession, professional ethics, knowledge transmission, educator, organizer, creator, adviser, motivator, commitment .

Human being try to live a delighted life while they are alive, and therefore they endeavor to create a promising life through studying, learning and teaching. We study, research and improve our skills in a certain field but we also know that we need a coach to give us primary education and skills during these efforts. Teacher, teaching – these are the words we encounter when we start any field, because we refer to the teacher in the largest, most prestigious, most paid fields and in a number of similar prestigious professions. Have we ever wondered what is meant by these words? What is a teacher or teaching? Paula Coelho say that “I will tell you it is not someone who teaches something, but someone who inspires the students to give of her/him best in order to discover what she/he already knows”. Some internet sources describe teaching as follows: teaching is the process of attending to people’s needs, experiences and feelings, and intervening so that they learn particular things, and go beyond the given. Furthermore, at www.igi-global.com Engagement, Publishing and The scholarship of Teaching and Learning, we can be sure that it has two foundations: Teaching.There are two fundamentally different ways of understanding teaching. The first sees teaching as an instructor-centered activity in which knowledge is transmitted from someone who has acquired that knowledge to novice learners: teaching as knowledge transmission. The second sees teaching as a learner-centered activity in which the instructor ensures that learning is made possible for novice learners and supports, guides, and encourages them in their active and independent creation of new knowledge: teaching as assisted knowledge creation. In addition, teaching is the teaching profession, which helps an individual for his growth fully, in his body, mind, spirit, intellectual emotion and with moral values and artistic sensitivity. Teachers are often considered the backbone of school [[Ingersoll & Merill, 2014] 1.93] As a mentioned above, we can conclude that teaching is one of the instruments of education and sharing knowledge, skills and experience.

The teaching process is the knowledge, experience and skills that are purposefully passed from one person to another, where the teacher is primarily the giver. Nowadays, in order to develop of technology and the increase of information, responsibilities and actions of the teaching profession are becoming more difficult and the demand for it is growing, which is why it is considered noblest. Respect the ideas and attitudes of learners and students, create a good mood in the teaching process, have a positive attitude, skillfully demand students who are striving for their goals, be alert and attentive in everything, maintain their professional skills in any situation and constant collaboration encourages the teacher to be unique. Orlando pointed out nine characteristics of a great teacher which are listed below:

1. A great teacher respects the ideas of students.

2. A great teacher creates a sense of community and belonging in the classroom.

3. A great teacher is warm, accessible, enthusiastic and caring.

4. A great teacher sets high expectations for all students.

5. A great teacher has own love of learning.

6. A great teacher is a skilled leader.

7. A great teacher is flexible.

8. A great teacher collaborates with colleagues on an ongoing basis.

9. A great teacher maintains professionalism in all areas.

Commitment to ongoing professional learning is an integral part of effective teaching. In short, for the teacher, every action and activity is a role in the teaching process. They may be an actor, a singer, a psychologist or a creator, and so on, but the most important thing is to teach the learners useful and accurate information and knowledge. If the teacher prepares a warm, happy environment, students or pupils are more likely to be happy. An environment set by the teacher can be either positive or negative. Students spend a great deal of time with their teacher. If students sense the teacher is angry, students may react negatively to that and therefore learning can be impaired. In case, they divert the environment, that is, increase their ownership in the process or in the classroom in order to listen to the learners, this action will increase students' confidence and a sense of purpose.

References :

1. Authority and The teacher. William H. Kitchen. 22.10.2014

2. Teacher and Teaching process. Dr. T. Manichander. 2016

3. Қурбонова Г.А. Замонавий ўқитувчининг педагогик маҳорати ва педагогик бурчи. //

Замонавий таълим.2017, 12-сон. – Т., 59-64б.

4. Педагогика: Учеб. пособие для студентов пед. учеб. заведений/ В.И. Журавлев, В.В.

Краевский, И.В. Крупина и др.; Под ред. П.И. Пидкасистого. -3-е изд., доп. и перераб. –

М.: Пед. о-во России, 1998. - 638 с.: ил. - ISBN 5-93134-001-7.